The mission of KLT is to protect natural places and habitats in Kittery that ensure the health of our environment and the well-being of our community.

KITTERY LAND TRUST

Our thanks to Michael Beland for his beautiful photograph.

one receives far more than he seeks.

*By supporting Kittery Land Trust, you are helping to make possible some of the most exciting work happening in our community. Thank you!

In the last year, with your support, we have:

- Conserved the 300-acre Rustlewood Farm, securing a place where local food can always be grown.
- Nearly doubled the amount of land protected by KLT since 1987.
- Increased recreational opportunities at our 170-acre Norton Preserve with a newly constructed bridge and improved trails.

The success of our work has brought about long-sought-after conservation and community-building opportunities, like:

- Our current project, Brave Boat Headwaters.
- A partnership with the Kittery schools to expand nature-based education.

Please help make these and other stewardship and outreach efforts reality!
